U. S. DECLINES TO PARTICIPATE IN GENOA CONFERENCE

POLITICAL RATHER THAN ECONOMIC, SAYS HUGHES

WILLING TO AID Must Get at Bottom of Russian Disturbance or Fail, Assertion.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington—Because it believes there has been an exclusion of questions which makes it not primarily an economic conference, but rather one of a political character in which it "could not helpfully participate," the American government has declined the invitation to take part in the Genoa conference, which is to be held in Genoa, Italy, next month. The declaration was conveyed in a note Wednesday from Secretary Hughes to Ambassador Ruggie at London, and presented the invitation extended by the government pursuant to the resolution adopted by the allied governments at the Genoa conference.

Without the establishment in Russia of the essential basis of production, the note stated, the United States government believes "all considerations of economic revival to be futile."

When the establishment in Russia of the essential basis of production, the note stated, the United States government believes "all considerations of economic revival to be futile."

It is announced Wednesday and Montreal will provide about 100,000 tons of foodstuffs. The Soviet government, according to the society, will give the farmers of the party special land grants on which they will be expected to produce foodstuffs for the Russian peasants.

New York and Seattle, Washington, the society said, will send agents to collect foodstuffs for the Russian peasants. New York and Chicago, and New York shoe-makers are also scheduled to sail.

London—The decision of the United States not to participate in the Genoa conference will not affect the delivery of plans for the conference, so far as Great Britain is concerned, it was stated officially Thursday. While it is known Russia desired American representation, it is believed that the conference will be held without American participation.

George Hull, Johnson, president of the Rock County Farm Bureau, said he would not attend the conference, but he would be one of the farmers' speakers at the Chamber of Commerce farm-city forum. Other representatives of the farm bureau will speak. J. A. Craig, president of the Wisconsin tractor company, will speak for the city. The subject is progressive cooperation between city and farm.

Chicago—The French magazine "La Vie Parisienne" did not appear in Chicago bookstores Thursday. The Chicago shipment was seized Wednesday by customs collectors who explained that the edition "bordered on obscenity." The magazine has been barred from the mails, it was stated.

FIRST BATTLE OF IRONCLADS SIXTY YEARS AGO TODAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York—Sixty years ago Thursday morning, the Confederate ironclad Merrimack steamed away from her anchorage in Hampton Roads to attack what was expected to be a defenseless Union fleet. Instead, she met the Monitor, later called the "Yankee cheese box on a raft," and engaged in the first battle between ironclads which changed the whole naval strategy of the world and which has been described as the "most momentous sea engagement ever fought."

Thursday the cities of New York and Stockholm united in doing honor to the memory of John Ericsson, who designed the Monitor.

A tablet was unveiled under the auspices of the American Society of Swedish Engineers at this house at 56 Beach street, where Ericsson lived, and under another tablet was unveiled at 250 West street, the site of the Phoenix foundry, where the parts for the Monitor were turned out and where Ericsson spent his last active years.

CHURCH FOLK IN RATIFICATION MOVE

Protestants, Catholics, Jews Join to Obtain Action by Congress.

New York—Four national religious organizations, representing Protestants, Catholics and Jews, Thursday began a concerted movement to obtain the United States senate's ratification of the peace treaty with Russia.

The movement is being carried on by the Church Peace Foundation in cooperation with the World Peace Foundation in Boston. The petition drive, mailed to 120,000 clergymen of the nation, urging them and their congregations to enlist the support of their senators. The petitions will be presented to President Harding and congress.

"When presenting the treaties to the senate," says a letter which accompanied the petitions, "President Harding said, 'either these treaties must have your cordial sanction or every proclaimed desire to promote peace and prevent war becomes a hollow mockery.'"

The president is also quoted as saying: "If the senate does not advise consent, it will be futile to try again."

The movement is endorsed by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in America, Edward C. Sullivan, president of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, and the United Synagogue of America, and Rev. Edward J. Hanna, archbishop of San Francisco as chairman of the National Catholic Welfare council.

OFFICIAL THROWS WRENCH INTO YANK BONUS PROPOSALS

ADJUSTED SERVICE CERTIFICATES DECLARED DANGEROUS.

"FROZEN CREDIT" Comptroller of Currency Hands Wallop to Plan Before Congress.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington—Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger announced Thursday that in event of enactment of soldiers' bonus legislation providing for payment by adjusted service certificates, he would advise national banks to decline to accept the certificates as security for loans.

Mr. Crissinger described the proposed plan of issuing adjusted service certificates, for use by the soldiers if desired, as collateral for loans to 10 per cent of the face value as "the worst kind of frozen credit" and declared that while he would be without authority to order national banks to refuse to accept them, as security, he would strongly advise against their acceptance.

Non-Negotiable Paper. The certificates would be "non-negotiable paper," Mr. Crissinger explained, and loans on them would lead the banks up for the three year term, which they cover with an unmovable mass of security.

The certificates would be similar to real estate loans, which are not redemptible at federal reserve banks, he said, and far from the liquid security best for the banks.

SPEEDY OPERATION WITH POCKET KNIFE SAVES LIFE OF BABY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Cincinnati—Surgery with a pocket knife Wednesday saved the life of a two-year-old John Washington, who was taken to a Cincinnati hospital with a peanut lodged in his windpipe. The child had stopped breathing when Dr. C. F. Payne arrived at the ward. Realizing that death would ensue before he could send for his instruments, Dr. Payne took his pocket knife, slit open the boy's throat and incised the trachea just below where the peanut was lodged. This permitted passage of air and the child soon revived. Later the peanut was removed.

JEFFERSON FIRM PROMOTER NABBED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London—Salome was an acrobatic tumbler, not a dancer of the modern ballet type, according to evidence laid before the Royal Archaeological Institute Wednesday. The organization, which has been in the past about marketing of their product, the department statement declared.

It is pointed out that while tobacco in Virginia is selling at 20 and 25 cents a pound, the best Wisconsin tobacco brings 12 cents at its highest. The discrepancy is said to be due not so much to difference in type or production as to the absence of a growers' marketing organization.

The pooling system enables the producer to avoid the danger of a sudden drop in the market. It also enables the producer to meet the fluctuating demand throughout the year. It enables him to grade his tobacco to get the best price for his product. It also enables him to solve the problem of financing through the system of bonded warehouses.

The sooner Wisconsin growers realize the tremendous advantages of tobacco pooling the sooner will they be in a position to command prices similar to those of Kentucky and Virginia.

Delaney Case to Jury After Judge Had Charged Conspiracy Not a Factor

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Milwaukee—The trial of Thomas Delaney, former prohibition director of Wisconsin, and Joseph H. Ray, former prohibition inspector, charged jointly with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, was concluded at noon Thursday when the case went to the jury, following the closing arguments and Judge F. A. Geiger's charge to the jury.

Single Overt Act Enough. It was not necessary, the court held in charging the jury to have proof that the conspiracy had been carried out, but proof of a single overt act in furtherance of a conspiracy was ground enough to find both defendants guilty.

There is not much question that a conspiracy existed between the Dudenheims and Joseph S. Guidice, the judge said, in his charge. "The only thing necessary for the jury to determine is whether either Delaney or Ray were involved in the conspiracy. It is not absolutely necessary that the jury absolutely certain that either of the men is guilty because it is humanly impossible to be absolutely certain of anything of this nature. If it seems beyond doubt to the jury that Delaney or Ray are guilty, they should be found guilty."

Many exceptions were taken by the attorneys for the defendants to the judge's charge. "The evidence of fellow conspirators is competent," the judge said, "but the jury should consider the relations of all the men involved in the conspiracy."

Testimony of character witnesses should not be allowed to outweigh direct evidence, the judge said. Thomas Silverwood, one of the attorneys for Delaney and Joseph Martin, attorney for Ray, frequently offered objection as the charge was made.

State Fixes No Valuation for Gas Company

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] In issuance of the order, Wednesday, calling for an immediate reduction of 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet in Janesville gas rates, the most important feature of the order was the finding as to the rate-making value of the New Gas Light company which had been agreed upon by the two parties at $8,000. The commission held, however, that the company's value was not to be taken into consideration in the rate-making value of the company and ordered the reduction without making any further decision.

With receipt of the commission's order and opinion of City Attorney Roger C. Cunningham.

"In this opinion," says the commission, "we are not making any finding of fact as to the value of the property, the results from operation or other matters covered in the report of the special committee of the common council. The commission can in any opinion and order entered by the commission at this time operate to interfere in any way with the rights granted by the public utility laws to the rate-making value of the property."

He told the sheriff his wife had become increasingly curious about the money since the marriage. Mrs. Craig said the deception was "not necessary to keep her love."

MADALYNNE TAKES WITNESS STAND IN OWN DEFENSE

CALLED TO TELL OF RELATIONS WITH KENNEDY. "GLAD OF CHANCE" Obenchain Relates Story of Their Life Together Before Divorce.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Los Angeles—The story of Madalynne Obenchain, a Chicago woman who said she had waited seven months to tell, concerning J. Edgar Kennedy, local broker, for whose murder she is on trial here, began Thursday when she was called to the stand as a witness in her own defense.

She smiled at the clerk as she was sworn as a witness.

Her testimony was that she had been in county jail for seven months since the morning of Aug. 6, last, when she was arrested following the shooting of Kennedy at his home in Glenview, Ill. She said that she was not allowed access to her letters or property since that time.

Refers to Diary. She was pale and spoke quite low, although appearing composed and not hesitating in her answers to questions. "But it was necessary for the attorneys to ask me," she said, "to speak louder. Her eyes were on the jury most of the time. Saying she kept a diary of her activities in 1921, she referred to it frequently to refresh her memory."

"I arrived in Los Angeles Jan. 7, 1921," she said. "I did not meet Mr. Kennedy for some time, although I saw him once or twice on the street. On Jan. 10, I telephoned him and he came to my home. He refused to return until I consented to see him."

"I refused to see him. On my second telephone call, Kennedy said, 'I am sorry I could never return until you saw me. I saw him that night. I consented to see him that night and waited for some time in the street and then saw him. He was accompanied by his father. We talked for some two hours.'"

Referring to her diary for the three weeks which were the three or four days after this meeting with Kennedy, she testified that she had meetings with Kennedy. She continually asked him for the return of her diary, saying she "wanted everything" ended, believing that would make it happier for everybody.

Kennedy wanted to continue their relations, including her to bear with him, she said.

Kennedy told her that, owing to his mother's illness, he could not do that which his "heart ached," she said. Kennedy followed her in a taxi cab and in others waited for her outside her home.

Obenchain on Stand. Ralph Obenchain took the stand Wednesday and detailed their life together.

Mrs. Obenchain gave out a brief statement before going on the stand. She said she was married to Kennedy for seven months. "I'm glad it's almost here. Of course, I'm a little nervous; wouldn't you be? But how I can tell my story."

Letter Brings Tears. Mrs. Obenchain's first tear after she took the stand came when her counsel read what purported to be a letter from Kennedy to her, as it was printed in a local newspaper and which was not produced by the district attorney when he offered other correspondence.

The letter, as read, was written by Kennedy to Mrs. Obenchain just after she had left suddenly for Chicago, without informing Kennedy of her intention.

GRANTED A DIVORCE

AND CUSTODY OF CHILD

Under the agreements of the stipulations filed in the divorce case of Inez E. Wilbur against her husband, Wayne Wilbur, their daughter, Helen, age 11, will spend part time with her father and mother. The couple were granted a divorce in the Rock county circuit court following a hearing before Judge George Gullmar Wednesday. The mother was granted the custody of the child.

In her testimony on the witness stand the wife alleged that her husband was a victim of an irritable temper and jealous disposition. Cruel and inhuman treatment was alleged. This was in contrast of the divorce. They were married in Milton in 1895 and have lived in both Janesville and Johnston. The divorce action filed last September was based on the division of the property.

PROMISES TO SCORE

HIT HERE, MONDAY

While there has been a scarcity of meritorious theatrical productions on tour this season, owing to the high cost of travel, the most successful ones have been the Revues. The public appeal for something light and amusing is superseding the demand for the more serious article. The drama can easily be depicted on the screen and serve its purpose, but witty dialogue, popular science, catchy music and beautiful costuming, cannot be transplanted from the real stage to the screen. "The Marcus Show," a truly, satirical farce, the burlesquing of famous episodes, the travesties of great plays can only be enjoyed by witnessing the real performance and hearing the spoken words.

During the past few years when the launching of a big theatrical production seemed a precarious undertaking, Manager Marcus, producer of the Marcus Show, to be at the Marcus theater Monday night, has continued offering the public a big production with a personnel of nearly 100 players, many of them commanding large salaries. Each season he has made long tours, embracing most of the important American cities, and each season he has strengthened his company. Where so many others have failed, he has met with success, because his audiences everywhere know they will more than get their money's worth when they witness a Marcus Revue.

Whistly music, catchy songs, magnificent stage settings, gorgeous costumes, clean, wholesome comedy, and the prettiest girls ever assembled are the features on which Mr. Marcus depends for public approval. With such assets he continues to tour each season, meeting with ever increasing success.

This is not a burlesque show.

KIWANIS CLUB ENTERS

ATTENDANCE CONTEST

With close to 100 per cent attendance record the Kiwanis club entered on the international contest for best place in the list of more than 700 clubs of the organization throughout the world, at the noon luncheon Thursday.

"Give Me Two
if It's Shredded Wheat"

Of course he wants two Biscuits—some boys will eat five or six at a sitting and then ask for more—it is so deliciously satisfying and strengthening.

Shredded
Wheat

is better than mushy porridges because the tasty crispness of the baked wheat encourages thorough chewing which develops sound teeth. Give the youngsters all they want. It is a real whole wheat food and is ready-cooked and ready-to-eat. So easy to prepare a delicious, nourishing meal in a few minutes.

For a warm, nourishing meal heat two Biscuits in the oven to restore their crispness; pour hot milk over them, adding a little cream and a dash of salt. Delicious with sliced bananas, prunes, raisins or canned fruits.

TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat cracker—a real whole wheat toast—and is eaten with butter or soft cheese.

"It's never touched me yet," he explained when they pointed out the risks.

That's the answer a good many people make when they hear that the drug element in tea and coffee often harms nerves and health. They say it's never touched them yet.

Sometimes they only think it hasn't.

Wakeful nights, drowsy days, headaches that keep coming more frequently—often are blamed on bad luck when the blame belongs on bad judgment in taking needless chances with harm.

Over on the safe side is Postum, a pure cereal beverage, delicious and satisfying—containing nothing that can harm nerves or digestion. Thousands who used to try their luck with tea or coffee are enthusiastic over having found safety and satisfaction in Postum.

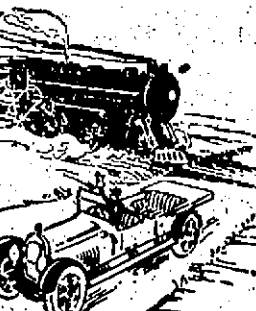

It's worth your while to make the test with Postum for ten days. Postum is a delightful drink for any member of the family, at any meal.

Your grocer has both forms of Postum: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Following
Washington's Advice

WASHINGTON was one of the first men to see clearly the necessity for financing internal improvements through the stock and bond methods used today by our public utility corporations.

Washington advised the men who wished to build a canal connecting the Delaware and the Chesapeake, "to form a stock company, paying interest to secure the co-operation of monted gentry, who, tempted by lucrative views, would advance largely on account of high interest. This I am inclined to think is the only method by which this desirable work will ever be accomplished."

Many "desirable works" have since been accomplished through this same method of financing—now done by the bond houses of the country. It is to the investors, and to the bond houses who form the link between the investor and capital, that we owe our railroads, our electric power and light, our canals—all the great fabric of commerce and business.

This is the tenth of a series of advertisements depicting the origin and development of the use of bonds and securities. Copyright 1921 by Morris F. Fox & Company, Milwaukee
